“ Each time I visited Anna Kate, she was always busy, but willing to take time to share her time with me. I seen her last on Dec. 23 and she was excited to show me her new addition to her Christmas Houses that she collected. Her love for her family, Gigget, her church and home was evident. Her house and yard was always perfectly kept. She spoke often of her visits with her granddaughter and how she looked forward to them and her calls. When I would drop off my sewing and pick it back up, she always made me feel welcome and like an old friend. I 'll miss her and her talent, but I know she's with our Lord and that is where she wanted to be. Kim Kerley
