“ Sometimes in life, God crosses your path with someone very, very special. Imogene was a friend and neighbor to my family for decades. She and my mother were close friends. She and Harold were always so good to look after my mother who lived next door. A kind and generous woman, Imogene, was indeed one of God's blessing to all who were fortunate enough to know her. I'm sure God has very special place set aside for one that has touched so many lives with kindness.

“ "Imogene" was so special to my mother "Hazel Bell". They were neighbors and friends for years. Imogene took care of and watched out for my mother when family couldn't be there. Imogene was one of a kind so sweet and that infectious smile. I say with a heavy heart she will be missed by "all". Heaven has just gained another angel

“ A genuine smile, a happy heart, a love of her Savior displayed in ministry to children, a life of integrity, a devotion to family and friends, and a streak of fun mischievous, all enveloped in a beautiful face . . . that is how I shall remember Imogene.

Imogene was loved, respected, and admired by SO many...I couldn't begin to name them all. My genuine prayers that precious memories comfort you all as you look towards that glorious day when we join Imogene in our Forever Home.

“ I will miss this sweet friend of mine. She was always smiling and the love between her and Harold was so inspiring. I will miss her face, her smile and her love. I guess I'm selfish I want to see her in church but I know God has now healed her and she's now singing with the angels.

“ There are no words to describe the depth of kindness Imogene showed to everyone. If only others could have learned from her, the world would be in a kinder frame of mind. Her humble heart shined so much light from Jesus. RIP Imogene. We will see you again someday. My sympathy to her family.
