“ Over the years, grandma taught me how to be strong. She taught me to persevere. In my visit in early Oct. '10, we had a beautiful conversation about family.

"Mend the wounds, keep your sisters/family close to you."

She also said "Don't allow family/people to manipulate you."

I love you grandma, with my whole heart. Your guidance helped me change my life.

“ Remembering Mom -
She enjoyed life to the fullest
She adored and wanted the best for her children and grandchildren
She was a loving, caring person who never met a stranger
She sacrificed for the betterment of her family
Her last wishes were that her children continue to grow together and keep what she valued and grow in strength

We will always love and remember you Mom!
