“ He will swallow up death forever, And the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces. The reproach of his people he will take away from all the earth, For Jehovah himself has spoken it.

“ I had the privilege of treating Ms. Judy at Kindred. When I first met her as a patient and her daughter, I kept thinking I think that I knew Angel, I did she was Andrea's mom. Small world. So early every morning I'd try to make a stop at 212 and say hi to Ms. Judy. Prayers for your family. Ms. Judy was well loved.

“ Aunt Judy was always my hero as far as parenting went. She loved her children as much as any person could love another! She was always smiling no matter what was going on in her life. Her life was a mirror of God's love and she shared that love with everyone she knew, even those she had just met. My favorite memory of her was when she was in the hospital and Annie wanted to go sing to her and pray over her! She cried as Annie sang Amazing Grace, and hugged her. That will forever stay in my mind as a precious time with her. Love you Aunt Judy give my mama and Debbie a huge hug from me. For September 22 she walked into the gates of Heaven as a beautiful angel with no more pain and no more sorrow.

“ My sweet Nana welcomed my sister and I into her heart as her own grandchildren even before Dad and Angel married. She always made us feel so special, loved, and cared for. She made sure to tell her grandchildren of her pride for them and she never missed a chance to let her family know how much she loved them. She offered wisdom through advice and encouragement through all of our life changes and has accepted each of us no matter how off the track we may have strayed. Nana is a jewel to our family and to her friends. It's doubtful that we will ever meet another like her but we will all strive to emulate her positivity in every situation, her happiness in the smallest of gestures, her unconditional love for her family, and her artistic edge. We will miss the red eye gravy and stuffed bell peppers, we will miss the gatherings at her home no matter where it was, we will miss the roaring laughter coming from one of her stories about the "good ol days," we will miss the long and genuine hugs and kisses, we will miss the "I love you's," most of all, we will miss our Nana.
