“Schild was a special friend when he lived in Atlanta. We worked together to create the national park on the Chattahoochee River. He was the President of Friends of the River, our non-profit, and he spent hundreds of hours of volunteer hours working in Congress getting the passage of the legislation. He was an Urban Planner with the Atlanta Regional Commission and later had a real estate company. I am sad about his passing and would love to talk with his partner or his sister.
