“ I met Linda and her children, when she lived in Knoxville. It was a time in my life when I really needed a friend. Me and my daughter visited a lot. We were always welcome in her home. I had found a true friend. Linda was the sweetest most down to earth person I have ever known. We enjoyed lots of things together. One thing we both liked was going dancing. She could really break it down on the dance floor. She made things fun. Although we had lost touch through out the years (except one visit, a couple of calls and the occasional letter) fond memories of her remained. Nobody could have asked for a better friend then Linda McIntosh and a good cook too !!! Praying for all the people whose life she touched.

“Darlene was my sister. My first theatre movie was with her (Count Blackula... of all things). She taught me how to count. She showed me how to make sandwiches & homemade doughnuts. She gave me my first rock album (kiss). She told me about the 1st girl who had a crush on me. She gave me male oriented hygiene advice that I'll keep between her & I. When she moved away (which broke my heart & almost killed me) i gave her a small hand painted frog I made for her. I didn't see her again for several years, but when I did, she not only still had that little ceramic frog, but she had it out on display in her house. She was always like that. Sentimental & a pure heart ❤️ And a sweet child's innocence. She'll be missed.
