“ My deepest condolences to Collin and Pat's whole family. I met Pat and Collin in their search to retire in Tennessee. This is such a shock to hear this awful news today. Pat was a very pleasant and interesting person to me. I spoke with her a several times once they arrived just to see how things were progressing. She smiled a lot and spoke of her family and things she and Collin were doing when we would talk. She was one of those clients I looked forward to becoming better friends with when I retired. I know you are all heart broken, I am so sorry for your loss.

“ Pat and I worked together at both DHS Headquarters and at ICE. We shared many memorable moments, both professionally and personally. Pat met life's challenges head-on, with grit and determination. She was brave, undaunted and full of life. My husband and I send our deepest condolences to her entire family. We join you in mourning the loss of a truly remarkable woman.

“ We want the family to know that our hearts are heavy and sad. We will miss Pat and may she rest in peace. Collin, When Pat would talk about her grandchildren her face would light -up, but meeting and marrying you made her heart sing with joy. Our prayers are with you and the family during this difficult time.

“ My condolences and prayers to Pat's entire family. Colin - I know you do not understand this now, and it makes not sense, but time will easy some of the pain. Keep the fond memories alive. It is always hard to lose a loved one and even harder to understand that God makes no mistakes. But I assure you He will sustain you during this time. I have many fond memories of Pat, how easy it was to work with and for her. I will keep you lifted in prayer. Sincere Sympathy, Pat Perry

“ I had the pleasure of working with Pat at DHS/ICE where we discussed life, work and family. At work, Pat expected her staff to work with the same commitment she exhibited. On the family front, Pat was a devoted Grandmother and the pictures on her office walls were a testament to her love of family. As much as she loved her grandchildren, she glowed when talking about Colin. He gave her love and a sense of well-being. We celebrated Pat’s retirement, her wedding and move to Germany, but those events left a quiet corner on our office floor.
Many will miss her and I send my heartfelt sympathy to Pat’s family and friends.

“ I would like to express my sincere sympathy to Pat's family. Pat hired me to work with her at Homeland Security in May of 2008. We had a good working relationship and it soon afterwards developed into a friendship. Though Pat was not the easiest person to work with, her and I got along great. She gave her all and expected the same from her staff. She loved her family and especially her grandchildren. She had pictures of them every where. As a grandmother myself it gave us more to share with each other. I thought about her often after her marriage to Colin and her move to England. She was a strong woman and had a love of life and family. She will be missed. God Bless you Pat Wallis!!!
