“ I've known Rick since 1992 and I'm still at a loss. Gonna miss you my best friend. I love you Rick, at least now you're not in any pain

“ Richard: A proud veteran, a stubborn but dedicated man, a warrior, fighter for those who had no voice, an animal lover/rescuer, a smart man, a husband, a father, a grandfather, devoted to those he called friends, most of all, he is and will always be The Junk Yard Dog!

It was often hard to break through his shell but once you did you found a good man, a sincere man and a very devoted friend.

The first time I talked to Richard, he was very matter-of-factly. Straight to the point with little warmth. I didn't take that personal at all. I continued to communicate and support him and we became great friends. I believe whole heartedly he would do anything to help his friends if they were in need. I know he offered to help me many times.

You will always be in my thoughts Richard! I will miss you terribly.

My prayers go out to all his family and friends.
