“ Thanks for being my father dad, please rest in peace forever. Hopefully someday we will meet again. Last early morning about and hour before you drew your last difficult breathe and while I gave you your last drink of water, and you lay your head back down, I forgot say " I Love you", partly from being stubborn, just like you, but mainly because, I did not truly know then that your time on this Earth was just about to come to an end, so with that now being said, I am saying what I should have said last night just before you fell back to sleep, just that time forever, so I am now saying. I LOVE you dad, thanks for everything and especially for making me tough. Just like you were. Thanks for making me strong, just like you were, and thanks for enduring all the hardships of your life, even the ones that you "may", have had a part in creating. Because they also helped me to have more endurance. Thanks for doing far more goods things then any not so good things. Thanks for being a very hard worker, because I am just like you , aka a "work a haulite". I am who I am because of you and my mother. So in closing , thanks most of all for marring my mother / your wife Barbara Sue Coulter Blaylock, she and you made a great family and yes you guys have some of the "most beautiful and smart ' grand children and great grandchildren.

Forever youre s your loving son.
