“ Words can't describe the heart brake I feel. Not only where you my mother but my best friend. Not a day went by that we didn't talk at least once if not 5-6 times. You where mine and the babies everything. I don't know what I will do with out you. I may be grown and have kids of my own but I will always need you. It was nothing at 30 years old to come crawl in bed with you and still cuddle, or come sit in your lap and let you hold me. You hold all my childhood memories and where my constant in life. 3 days have gone by since I heard your voice and you say I love you. If I had knew that was the last time I would talk to you I would have never let you get off the phone. I miss you so much already and it doesn't seem real. I wake up everyone morning thinking it was just a nightmare. That your still a phone call away and will come running to be by my side like you have the last 30 years! I don't know how are what I will do with out you!

“ I am so sad to hear about this. I have considered Sally a dear friend since 1st or 2nd grade at Dayton City School. I just saw her about a month ago and she told me how much our friendship meant to her and we told each other I love you! I just can't believe it. Rest in peace Sally. I already miss you! I love you! My prayers go out to the family. May God be with you and comfort you.

Oh my this hurts my heart. My dear dear childhood friend.....yes my friend. I am so very sad to hear you are no longer here. It has been several years since I have talked or seen her but there are some people who come into your life and leave their mark. She was definitely a person that did. Sally was a friend of mine from all the way back to elementary school (DCS). I was just talking about you just the other day. I was talking about how you used to love to hitchhike when we were younger. I would always be afraid for you and couldn't wait until you made it back to Dayton safely. You will be missed. I will always treasure our friendship. I love you my friend! You rest now. 🌹

Sallie will be missed but not forgotten. She always had a smile on her face and a big hug to give when she would visit. Mom thought a lot of Sallie and now they are both angels in heaven. Larry take care of yourself. Sending prayers your way.
