“ Mrs. Miller was my 8th grade english teacher. She taught our class that honesty and integrity come above evrything else. I loved her dearly and often spoke fondly of her during conversations at work involving the "favorite teacher" story sharing. She was hard on us. She never accepted 90%. She was my favorite teacher of all time and I will remember her forever. See you in heaven Mrs. Miller. Love you.##imported-begin##Steve Stout##imported-end##

“ I am very sorry to hear about your loss. Your Mom touched many of our lives. I was one of many of you Mom's students. She taught us not only English, but that you also needed to give 110% no matter what. We will miss her. My prayers are with you.

“ Mrs. Miller was a dear and special person. Those of us who knew her, loved her. Her influence will live for many years through her family, those she taught, and those of us who were encouraged by her warm and friendly smile.

My thoughts, love and prayers are with Adena and the other family members expecially now.

Love,

“ Mrs. Miller was my 8th grade Journalism teacher at RCES in 1982. She truly did push us toward excellence and flat out told me that I would do fine in Elaine Weaver's College Prep English class my Freshman year at RCHS and to stop whining about it. She was right and I am so thankful for her loving push and support. I continue to write today and I give Mrs Miller the credit for it.##imported-begin##Cheri (Cotner) Dodson##imported-end##

“ Mrs. Miller was my English teacher in 1977. She called all her students to excellence. She desired us all to be what we were created to be. I got out my 1977 Rhea County High School annual today and remembered her and those I went to school with in 1977. May Mrs. Miller rest in the eternal peace she offered others.##imported-begin##Rev.
